House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Thank you for your interest in the Intelligence Community as expressed in the Committee's book "Policy Alternatives: Ideas for Tomorrow, Choices for Today."

Due in large measure to the efforts of the Administration and the Congress, the past few years have been a period of restoration for the Community, both in capabilities and spirit.

Because of this support, the Community has made advances on many of the issues espoused in your report. For example, we continue to enhance the capabilities of our technical means of acquiring information and have plans for significant capabilities for the future. Efforts to improve our access through human sources are equally vigorous. I can also assure you that gains continue to be made in the coordination of intelligence community activities.

We appreciate the opportunity to comment on the book. If you need further assistance, please feel free to call.

Sincerely,

WJ William J. Casey

The Honorable William Casey
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20205

Dear Mr. Casey:

In early January the House Republican Research Committee released a book of policy alternatives entitled "Ideas for Tomorrow, Choices for Today." Many of the book's ideas require legislative action, and the Committee is tracking their progress through the 99th Congress. In addition, a number of the proposals entail administrative action. Please review the enclosed sections, which bear on your agency's work. I would be most grateful if you could tell me of any recent action embodying proposals listed in these pages.

I shall look forward to hearing from you. If the Research Committee can be of any further assistance, please do not hesitate to get in touch with us.

Sincerely,

Jerry Lewis
